

Spotlight on the Guys:

because senior portraits aren't just a girl thing.

It's senior portrait season and the girls are pumped, but what about you? Dreading the day when mom wakes you up from your extended slumber to throw you in a nice "outfit" she's picked out for you because it brings out the oh-so-adorable baby blues she remembers staring up at her long before your senior year?

Some advice. Wear it, but (and this is key) don't forget these are your images too. Sure, you can wear your mom-pleaser for those shots she can't wait to show her friends and co-workers, but bring your favorites and make this about you! Sick band t-shirts, funky jackets, jerseys, fun sweatshirts and even hats make for great personality shots -- the ones where you're just hanging out, being you.

If you feel comfortable you'll look it and get some great shots in the process. Sports jerseys and equipment as well as other hobby related props (bikes, guitars, your skateboard) also add that personal flair to make you stand out, so don't be afraid to bring them along!
